

World Music: Listen, Learn, Dance!

with DJ Kris Koch

During World Music: Listen, Learn, Dance!, DJ Kris Koch introduces children from ages 2 – 12 to all sorts of fun music by taking an imaginary trip around the globe within 40 minutes. Passports are not required. If time permits, the trip can run an hour to 1½ hours.

First, Kris teaches participants about a song from a particular country, for instance Ghana, then they listen to it and are encouraged to dance to it. Getting children interactive with each song makes it fun and memorable.

The program benefits children – and their parents - in several ways. First, the music is incredibly fun! Children love to hear new music and dance. Two, exposing them to a wide variety of non-offensive music at an early age helps develop a lifetime appreciation of great music. Three, parents learn about music that they themselves can enjoy at home. Four, World Music: Listen, Learn, Dance! helps children develop a better appreciation for diverse cultures through their music. Finally, world music make families happy.

The following items are provided: sound system, wireless microphone, world music CDs to play, table linens, world map, international music posters for display and a handout with fantastic world music CD recommendations to enjoy at home. If available, promotional CDs for prizes are included.

The following is needed: two, 6-foot long banquet tables.
